Millwood Controversy

Look Like a Case of Broken Pledge

According to the time-table for public works projects after every war this is the hour when America should be pushing for the big ones. And she is.

Last September Red River Valley association officials told Ray Lawrence, J. I. Liebling, and your editor in a Shreveport conference that the Army Engineers have been instructed by the Eisenhower administration to whip all pending flood control projects into shape for early action by the congress.

We were in Shreveport, of course, to discover the exact status of the big Millwood dam which is projected for Little river just west of Saratoga — a $3-million-dollar venture. Millwood is rated by the Army Engineers as "No. 1 Must" among all Red River valley flood control projects.

Some of the towns and counties lying north of the dam-site object to Millwood. They prefer the alternative plan of building several small dams upstream and on the tributaries of Little river — but this alternative was rejected and Millwood was approved by the Army Engineers.

The great opponent of Millwood is the Dierks Lumber & Coal Co., one of America's major timberland operators, and its opposition is understandable. It's seldom pleasant to see your private property condemned to make way for public works. But although Dierks' motive is understandable its current strategy is not.

I am here repeating for emphasis what was published last fall immediately after the Hope committee returned from Shreveport. The Red River Valley association office told us that because of Dierks' continued opposition to Millwood a conference was held between the parties favoring and opposing it and this stipulation was made: An additional $150,000 would be provided and the Army Engineers would make a re-study of Millwood versus the alternative plan of several small dams — and this final report would be considered binding on both sides in the controversy.

The Army Engineers brought in their new and final report — and it still favored Millwood and still rejected the alternative of several small dams.

But the stipulation for which this additional $150,000 of re-survey money was obtained and spent has been broken. Dierks Lumber & Coal Co. continues to employ a consulting engineer and continues to circulate a southwest Arkansas with reports and maps favoring the alternative but rejected plan.

One of the effects of the Dierks propaganda is to broadcast the report that possibly the Okay cement plant would be closed down should Millwood be constructed. But there is nothing in the official record to show that the Okay plant has filed any objection, and everything in the same record seems to indicate that the Army Engineers have given full protection to Okay in their plans for the flood-control reservoir. The only statement I have seen from a top official of the Okay plant was a guarded reply to a question based on Dierks' maps and Dierks' data — which is propaganda pure and simple. If Okay is to be heard in this matter the questioning should come from the Army Engineers — not from Dierks, a highly interested party.

It was never The Star's intention to get into a controversy with either Dierks or our neighboring cities and counties. But according to the record the questioning which precedes the Engineers' re-study of Millwood was the final chapter. Controversy had ended — and so it was time we asked ourselves and all the other towns in the area this question:

When — not if — Millwood dam is built do you want to arrange with the Army Engineers for water rights, for your city folks, your industries, and your farmers. This arrangement has to be made in advance of final construction plans. Denison, Texas, failed to make such an arrangement before the government built the huge dam on Red river there, and now Denison can't get a bucket of water out of that reservoir for community needs.

This is the true question before southwest Arkansas — not Dierks' rhetorical question as to whether Millwood will be built. I think I am reporting the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, when I tell you Millwood will eventually be built. The controversy ended some time ago — and not all the smoke coming up from Dierks' propaganda mill can obscure that fact very long.

It's time indeed for southwest Arkansas to drop the pretense of controversy and get down to the true question: Do we want water rights for our town and farm folks in that new reservoir?

The water shortage continues throughout the Middle West this winter. Municipal reservoirs are dry in Kansas and towns are having to bring in drinking water by truck. That's a natural hazard in Kansas, where rivers are few and lean — but it doesn't make sense for Arkansas to flirt with the spectre of water shortage when our state has so many rivers that flood control is a major problem. The sensible thing to do is to ask that Millwood's construction be set for an early date — and make sure we have community water rights incorporated in it.

Fire Situation Critical in State Forests

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Forester Fred Lang issued an emergency warning today as Arkansas' almost critical timber fire situation threatened to grow worse.

"High winds, low humidity and cumulative dry weather have made our forest fire situation critical," he said. "Don't burn leaves, trash or old fields at any time regardless of precautions."

The state forester also said his department is stepping up its efforts to catch and prosecute "fire bugs," upon whom he blamed many of the fires which ravaged valuable timberlands yesterday.

Lang said two persons were fined $10 and costs each for setting fires yesterday—one in the Waldo area and the other near Thio in Nevada County.

He reported that, although no old fires were carried over from yesterday, "We've got 'em going already this morning. It looks like a lulu of a day."

"We're getting all of the reserve firefighters forces we can. Right now we are on top of the situation, but if it doesn't rain in the next few days, we may have to call out the National Guard in order to move enough man power."

The Forestry Department reported that 92 fires destroyed 2,110 acres of timber in the state yesterday all were extinguished.

Seventy of the fires were in the south Arkansas pine belt, with the Stamps, El Dorado and Malvern areas hardest hit.

The other 22 blazes were in North Arkansas hardwood region. The most timber destructive in the North occurred near Fayetteville and Mountain View.

Girl Charged With Slaying Baby

FORT SMITH (AP)—A charge of first degree murder was filed yesterday against an 18-year-old girl in the death of a newborn boy here Monday.

Prosecutor James Gutensohn filed the charges in Municipal Court against Netha Newman of Fort Smith. The girl is being held in technical custody at a hospital, where she is being treated.

The badly-beaten baby was found dead in a kitchen cabinet at Miss Newman's two-room apartment by police. His mangled body was wrapped in tissue paper.

Sebastian County Coroner Dr. William H. Polk said the infant was killed by a blow which fractured his skull. The baby also had been stabbed three times. A blood-stained butcher knife was found near the cabinet.

Dr. Polk said the boy was less than 24 hours old when it was slain.

Even at the Age of Six a Smart Girl Has Learned to Hold One Secret in Reserve

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The last time I saw my six-year-old god-daughter, Nina, she was in pajamas and bathrobe on her way to bed, her blonde hair brushed long around her face, her blue eyes languid with postponed sleep.

She came running to give me a special good night kiss. Then she asked impulsively, "Hal, can I tell you a secret?"

Climbing up in my lap, she put her arms round my neck, and whispered in my ear very softly, "I'm in love."

She told me this strictly in confidence, but you know how women are. I always figure when they tell you a secret they are 50 per cent hoping you'll spread the word for them, and 75 per cent trying to get out for effect—to see whether or not it is really a worthwhile secret.

Nita caught me off guard I won't say I was jealous. But I had that half empty feeling any proud godfather gets when a gal who holds a special niche in his heart suddenly says she is in love—and means someone else.

"His name is Charles, and he is wonderful," she said. "He is the best reader in the first grade."

That can be pretty important to a lady at six—a lady who enjoys nothing more herself than to curl up with a good solid book of nursery rhymes. When I asked Nina if Charles liked her, she went completely feminine.

"Well, he says he doesn't," she said, and both climples came into view, "but I think he really does."

After Nina had gone to bed, I began cautiously asking about it. The public is invited.

Ike Congratulates Veteran of 107

By JOE F. KAN

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—A letter of congratulations from President Eisenhower was tucked in among the hundreds of cards and messages that arrived today at the home of chipper, old Albert Woolson, last survivor of the Union Army of the Civil War.

The veteran was celebrating his 107th birthday today. The message from the President read:

"My warm congratulations go to you on your 107th birthday. As America's veteran of the Grand Army of the Republic you have special cause for pride and for national recognition on this significant anniversary. I send you my best wishes for your continued health and happiness."

Sitting with a large pile of cards and letters in his lap, Woolson chuckled, "I'm almost smothered in kind wishes."

Fears U. S. May Back Into the Indochina War

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Russell (D-Ga.) and Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today they fear the United States may be backed into war in Indochina.

They called upon President Eisenhower to consult Congress before taking any further steps to help the French against renewed Communist attacks. Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday there is no attempt to carry on any policy in the dark.

The President said every move the government takes to aid anti-Communist forces in Indochina is carefully calculated to keep the United States from getting involved in a hot war there.

"What I am apprehensive about," Russell said in an interview, "is getting backed into war through the chipstone assignment of personnel."

Russell, a member of the Armed Services Committee said the committee was not told about the assignment of 200 American Air Force technicians until they were on their way to Indochina. He said by then it was too late for the committee to do anything.

"There are plenty of mechanics they could have gotten to do with out sending servicemen," Russell added. "There are plenty of mechanics in France."

The President said there appeared to be some misunderstanding about notifying the committee in regard to the technicians. He added that the technicians will handle American-provided aircraft in Indochina, will not be in combat and are scheduled to be withdrawn by next June 15.

Mansfield advised the administration to "avoid the Truman mistake," by "informing Congress before any action is taken."

"I don't want to be brought into Indochina by the back door," he added in a separate interview.

Mountain Home Dries Victorious

MOUNTAIN HOME (AP)—A seven-year-old ban on the legal sale of alcoholic beverages in Baxter County still is in effect today after prohibitionists won another local option election.

With 24 of 26 precincts reported, the "drys" had 1,047 votes, while the "wets" had only 1,037. It was the biggest "dry" margin since the county first outlawed sale of beer and liquor in 1947.

Proponents of legal sales have tried three times to overturn the ban by election.

Experts Contend State Cotton Farmers Get Only Third Yield Through Improper Fertilization

By CARL BELL

FAYETTEVILLE (AP)—Agricultural experts say Arkansas farmers are getting only a third of the crop yields they could obtain through proper fertilization.

And that's a situation the newly expanded soil testing laboratory at the University of Arkansas hopes to remedy.

The soil testing laboratory was established by an act of the 1953 Legislature, which increased the tax on fertilizer 25 cents a ton to finance the project.

The laboratory — which not only makes routine tests of soil samples sent in by farmers but also carries on a continuing research program aimed at improving its services — is headed by Dr. R. L. Beacher, a young, Pennsylvania-reared agronomist who says he came to Arkansas because he is convinced it really is the "Land of Opportunity."

As an example of his own opportunity, he said:

"It has been concluded that the crop yield in Arkansas is only one-third of what it could be with proper fertilization. This record can be improved greatly in time."

Actually, soil testing was begun by the University in 1946 but only on a catch-as-catch-can basis without a special appropriation to finance the work.

Facilities, personnel and operations were increased and stepped up last June 1 under the 1953 act. Between July 1 and Dec. 31 of last year the laboratory conducted 9,500 soil tests and made that many recommendations for improvement.

Dr. Beacher expects his staff to take about 14,000 tests in the first six months of this year and believes that eventually 100,000 tests will be handled each year.

A branch laboratory is under construction at the University's Cotton Branch Experiment Station at Marianna. The branch lab and the main lab in Fayetteville will be equipped to make 1,000 tests each per week.

Dr. Beacher says it is necessary that soil samples be selected properly and that it is better for the farmer to ask his county agent to do this for him.

Once the sample reaches the laboratory — most of them are sent by parcel post — it goes through an assembly line of test tubes, chemicals and electrical gadgets. In this series of tests, laboratory technicians determine just how much of each element the soil contains.

Given this information plus a list of what the farmer wants to grow on his land, Dr. Beacher or one of his assistant agronomists prescribe fertilizers which should be used.

When not busy testing the farmer's samples, the agronomists are in the field themselves testing various types of soil constantly checking the plant growth and yield of each test.

From this is obtained information enabling the tester-prescriber to be a better job of advising the farmer.

Dr. Beacher says there are about 50 types of soil in Arkansas — and each of these types is depleted to various degrees on different farms.

"I never saw anything like it in my 45 years of practice," said Dr. C. H. Dickerson, operator of the Dickerson Clinic, where the postman, W. H. Fleming, died from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Dr. Dickerson was one of the six men who relentlessly applied artificial respiration and administered oxygen in an attempt to save Fleming's life.

Fleming stopped breathing at 9:05 a. m. yesterday, and died at 9:10 p. m.

His blood pressure registered 220 when he was admitted to the clinic after he was stricken at his Conway home about 8 o'clock Tuesday night, Dr. Dickerson said.

His blood pressure dropped to 50 when he stopped breathing. The normal pressure for an adult is 110 to 135. Fleming's blood pressure varied between 40 and 60 for the six hours before his death, Dr. Dickerson said.

Fleming was a former president of the National Music Association and the Arkansas State Music Association, which are made up of gospel singers.

The widow and two sons survive. Funeral services were set for 10 o'clock in City Hall. Clyde Brock, Conway, will hold the graveside services at the First Methodist Church here.

Big Four Discuss Compromise for Korean Parley

From Our Press Services

BERLIN (AP)—Authoritative informants said today that the Big Four foreign ministers in their second "secret" session considered a British compromise plan for a quick summoning of a Korean political conference.

The plan put forward by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden calls for a Korean conference outside the framework of the United Nations.

The conference would be composed of the Big Five powers, the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Communist China, plus both the North and South Korean governments and any other belligerents wishing to attend.

Eden's plan supersedes proposals by French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

The French plan called for the five major powers and the two Korean governments to meet under certain conditions. The conditions were that if progress was achieved, or if Communist China promised to suspend aid to the Red forces in Indochina, there would be a Big Five conference plus the three associated states of Indochina, Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam. This conference would be limited to the Indochinese war problem.

Both the Eden and Bidault plans mark a slight concession on the previous U. N. stand regarding the Korean conference since under their proposals Russia would in effect be attending as a "neutral" state.

Early Coffee Control Bill Requested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Angell (R-Ore.) said today he will ask early House action on a bill to impose government controls over speculation and futures trading in coffee.

Without a record vote or debate, the Senate voiced approval of the measure yesterday, apparently reflecting nationwide concern over recent increases in coffee prices.

Angell said he believes government regulation "would control any skulduggery or price fixing in coffee."

Chairman Houpe (R-Kan.) said he House Agriculture Committee probably would consider the coffee control measure during the next week.

The legislation will not halt two current investigations into causes for the recent jump in coffee prices.

Strike Delays Work at Stamps Plant

STAMPS (AP)—Work on construction of a 135,000-watt generator plant near here for the Arkansas Power & Light Co., has been delayed by a walkout of 70 union pipefitters.

Construction Supt. W. M. Wilford of Ebasco Services, Inc., which is building the plant for AP&L, said the workers quit after pipe was hauled to the job by an Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. truck. Employees of the gas firm aren't union members.

Wilford said about 260 employees stayed on the job, but that work was delayed by the walkout.

The AFL pipefitters quit last Friday. They have not picketed the project.

Chamber Drive for Members in Progress

President Kenneth Ambrose, of the Hope Chamber of Commerce and Syvelle Burke, Chairman of the membership drive and budget committee, report the drive is meeting with very good response and success so far.

A large majority of the 1953 members are increasing their dues from 50 per cent to 100 per cent. A concerted effort is being made by the various workers to contact not only the previous members of the Hope Chamber of Commerce, but to solicit members who have not been participating in the organization.

"Of course," stated Mr. Burke, "we are still a long ways from our budget goal, but we are greatly encouraged in the response we have received from the contacts that have been made. We feel that the drive will go over in due time."

Expansion of Business Aim of Tax Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Economic experts said today they expect new tax benefits offered by the government to encourage industry to spend an extra $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 on expansion this year.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming made 22 industries eligible yesterday for fact tax write-offs on new plants and equipment. The action, he said, is to boost production capacity for defense purposes.

A spokesman insisted there is no connection between the write-offs and any administration action to halt the current economic decline.

However, the program is similar to the administration's proposal for liberalizing tax deductions for plant and equipment depreciation as a means for stimulating expansion.

Flemming had removed 17 of the 22 industries from the special write-off eligibility list last December while their production capacities were being reviewed.

Special Red Squads Set Up for 'Revolt'

BERLIN (AP)—The Communists have up special security squads against possible farmer-revolt in East Germany, anti-Red sources said today.

At the same time, the U. S. High Commission newspaper Neue Zeitung reported that new "protest actions" by discontented industrial workers flared in parts of the Soviet zone within the past 48 hours.

Both moves were reported as part of the continually growing unrest among East Germans against Russia's refusal to unify Germany.

The Neue Zeitung said East Berlin factory workers distributed leaflets demanding free elections and attacking Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's plan for a plebiscite on unity or the European defense community.

The newspaper said that in the Oberschoeneberg factory workers shouted down Communist party central committee member Paul Wandel, who was sent to the plant to speak on the Soviet unity plan.

Man Dreams for Short Period

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Will K. Smith hauled $500,000 in cash to the government today and went back to driving his beer truck.

Smith took one last look at the handsome check made out to him and then walked back to Third Army headquarters in Atlanta, where a mechanical error had nearly made him a millionaire.

With the check, Smith dreams of a new home and Cadillac. Actually, the government only owes him $1,210.00 in pay as an Army reservist. A fluke in a check-writing machine resulted in the $500,000 overpayment.

"I was a thousand times more money than I ever had in one time in my life," Smith said. "I had $500 saved up for 10 months on front line duty in Korea."

Although Smith and his wife knew the check was a mistake, they did a lot of dreaming and that long Cadillac would have bought a Cadillac so long it would have had to back up to turn a corner.

Smith's 25 drives a truck and a beer distributing firm, and his wife and three children live in a government housing project. They are Negroes.

French Forces Kill or Capture 1,000 Commies

By JEAN BARRE

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—French forces killed or captured 1,000 Communists this week in the Red River delta, some 40 miles from the airfield where newly-arrived U. S. airplane mechanics are working, it was announced today.

The French high command said another 800 persons, believed to be Red guerrillas in disguise, were rounded up for screening in the 99-hour mop-up of the Nam Dinh area, south of Hanoi, on the border of Communist activity in the vicinity of the airfield is not uncommon. Guerrillas blew up a grain line dump only 12 miles away this week.

The Americans are protected by tank patrols and barbed wire entanglements constantly provided by "war dogs."

The suspected Reds rounded up in the Nam Dinh region were mostly men caught following Communist coffins in funeral processions, which apparently were attempts to escape the closing French net.

Intelligence officers began investigating when they noticed a sudden, unaccountable increase in the number of the area where French and loyal Indochinese troops were mopping up Communists.

Meanwhile, reports from a battle-battered Pabang said heavy columns, moving for the first time in days, had pushed within 10 miles of the ancient royal capital of Laos while some 1,500 guerrillas harassed defenders in the city.

A French army spokesman said Communist forces estimated at 10,000 men are advancing from Nam Bao, south of the Nam Nguai valley, despite unremitting attacks by American-built warplanes.

Just north of the threatened French patrols clashed with advance units patrolling in search of a weak spot in the defense perimeter.

Citizenship Given Up by Mrs. Chaplin

LONDON (AP)—British-born American-born Oona O'Neill, among its newest citizens today, she renounced her citizenship to the United States, which she readmitted her aging film husband until he was satisfied with her answers to accusations of Communist sympathies and "grave charges."

"Isn't it lovely? I'm a citizen!" the 22-year-old O'Neill said as she waved her new passport and said "Hello, America!" porters last night when she was 64-year-old husband, Charlie Chaplin, arrived from Switzerland.

NYC Board Rejects Young as Chairman

NEW YORK (AP) — Rejection of Robert R. Young as a director and chairman of the board of the New York Central Railroad threatened today to touch off a wide open battle for control of the vast rail system.

Young, who controls the railroad's largest individual stock holding, denounced the present board of directors after its action yesterday.

In a statement from his Palm Beach, Fla., home he declared: "I am sure that the properties are going to be made to continue to submit to a Morgan non-ownership board with countless conflicting interests, whether or they are to enjoy what they honestly business under our honest system. The public are to be deceived instead of being helped. That is an ownership board."

Demos Claim Personal Tax Cut Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic advocate of a general personal income tax cut predicted today it would be approved by the Republican-controlled House Ways and Means Committee, but several GOP members pooh-poohed the idea.

Rep. Boggs (D-La.), already voted down once by his Republican colleagues on the committee when he proposed increasing personal exemptions by $100, said several of them have indicated they are ready to change their minds. He said they might write the increase, or at least one of $50, at the last minute into a general tax revision bill now being drafted.

But two Republican committee members in separate interviews threw cold water on the idea and several others who would not be quoted by name agreed it had little chance.

A $100 increase in the exemption for a taxpayer and each of his dependents would reduce federal revenues by almost 2 1/2 billion dollars annually. Nevertheless, Boggs forecast an income tax reduction in addition to a 10 percent dollar slash in the top tax rates.

He predicted the committee's tax revision, which would call for a 10 percent cut in about six billion dollars, would be in an interview, there was no doubt the House would pass such a bill if it gets a chance.

Boggs sponsored a motion weeks ago to write a $100 increase in personal exemptions into the revision bill. The motion was beaten on a straight party vote, 15 Republicans against 10 Democrats.

Rep. Kean (R-N.J.), sponsor of the 1948 move which raised exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent from $500 to the present $800 said such a program would be "irresponsible."

Rep. Utt (R-Calif.) another committee member, said he "couldn't conceive of the committee approving such a huge reduction."

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO (AP) — New crop wheat deliveries forged ahead in a mixed grain market on the Board of Trade today.

Demand for the wheat contracts representing the 1954 crop was based on continued dry weather in the Southwest, a forecast for falling temperatures. The grain does not have a protective snow cover in many sections.

Soybeans also were ahead most of the day, particularly the old crop months. Japan brought 670,000 bushels of cash soybeans overnight. Feed grains lagged, particularly corn.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 HIGHER, March $2 15-2.16, corn 1/4 lower, March $1.53 1/2-1.53, oats unchanged, HIGHER, March 78 1/2-79, rye 1/2 to 1 cent lower, March $1.22 1/2, soybeans unchanged to 1/4 higher, March $3.22-3.23.

Whaley May Join Dr. Caldwell's Staff

FAYETTEVILLE (UP) — Storm Whaley, former manager of Radio Station KUOA, Siloam Springs, may become an assistant to Dr. John Tyler Caldwell, president of the University of Arkansas.

Dr. Caldwell said today that he had discussed the "possibility" with Whaley, but "nothing definite was settled."

Whaley currently is administrative aide to U. S. Rep. J. W. Trimble, Berryville, in Washington, D.C. The job for which Whaley was approved was created at the last meeting of the university's board of trustees by splitting the double job of Joe Covington, university provost. Covington was slated to be dean of the new law school.

Whaley was reported in Washington as declining to discuss the matter. He said any statement would have to come from Dr. Caldwell.

1,300 Jobless on Arkansas Relief Rolls

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Relief rolls in northeast Arkansas' sprawling agricultural area rose to more than 1,300 today as jobless farm workers continued to apply for food for their families.

Another 355 needy families applied at State Welfare Department offices in Lepanto and Marked Tree yesterday. About 1,000 asked Tuesday to share in free surplus foodstuffs when the offices were opened in the two Poinsett County towns.

About half of the needy people registering at Lepanto yesterday reportedly came from adjoining Mississippi County, which has made no official request for state aid.

Welfare Department officials said about five per cent of those seeking help have been turned down because they have enough resources upon which to live at least for the time being.

A. J. Moss, head of the Welfare Department, said yesterday that first foodstuffs for the unemployed people should arrive in Poinsett county next week. The needy will receive shortening, cheese, dry milk and butter from the federal Production and Marketing Administration's store of surplus foods.

Insured Promptness The word "tip" originated from the first letters of the phrase, "to insure promptness," which appeared on coin boxes placed in early English barbershops.

Do CRAMPS give you that monthly look? Why let fall-late misery, "haves" show in your eyes? Does your mirror show an older-looking, worn-out, nervous face during your "bad days"? Why let men see that you are suffering from monthly cramps? Try a Little Cardui each day as thousands of women do. Let it help build strength and resistance so you have less and less misery each month. Some go through periods without feeling any discomfort at all. Also helps relax jittery nerves—sleep better. Look, feel, act younger, more normal all month. Ask for Cardui. (Say: "card-you-ee").

Orioles Acquire a New Look

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, anxious to make a good impression in the American League after an absence of 50 years, are going all out for a "new look" in 1954.

Last season, the Orioles, who were then the St. Louis Browns, finished in the cellar. Since shifting franchises, Baltimore has embarked on a trading program to improve the club's position.

Pitcher Vern Bickford was purchased by the Orioles yesterday from the Milwaukee Braves of the National League for an undisclosed sum. As part of the deal, Baltimore also sold Charles White Jr., a catcher from its San Antonio farm team, to the Braves.

This was the Orioles' second major deal in less than a week. They obtained outfielder Sam Mele and infielder Neil Berry from the Chicago White Sox last Friday in exchange for outfielder Johnny Groth and infielder Johnny Lincecum.

The Dutchman Is Back on Links

By WILBUR JOHNSON ANDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Clear the fairways you youngsters, "old pro" Dutch Harrison is heading back for the golfing season armed with a vibrating machine to keep his ailing back on the mend.

Harrison, the venerable Arkansas traveler who has stomped the fairways on the PGA tour for 13 years, returned to his Dorthick Hills Club yesterday and allowed he was ready to "take after 'em."

The aging Arkansas (44 on March 28) was forced off the tour while tied for first place in the Thunderbird Tournament at Palm Springs, Calif., with rounds of 63-68, finishing with four straight birdies.

An unfortunate back ailment cooled one of the hottest streaks on the tour.

Hope Junior and Senior girls teams tangle with Blevins tonight in the Hempstead County tournament at Spring Hill.

Firebugs Cause of Forest Fires

LITTLE ROCK — Firefighters looked to the skies today for rain and relief from a sudden outbreak of forest fires that swept the state's timberlands yesterday.

State Forester Fred Lang, who charged that about half of the 55 fires still burning last night had been set by "firebugs," pleaded with farmers not to burn trash or fields "until the rains come."

Doubtful of Opposition by Politics Alone

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he does not believe Republican political criticism alone will cause any substantial number of Democrats in Congress to oppose President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Dirksen, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, sided with Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, who said he thinks Republicans in Lincoln Day speeches are just "giving the facts." Hagerty said he didn't regard the speeches as attacks.

Many of these speeches centered on alleged Democratic coddling of Communists in past administrations. Democratic leaders have called on Eisenhower to say whether he condones the GOP blasts.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) told a Los Angeles audience last night that in the past 20 years "thanks to the Democrat administration, tolerance of Communist subversion has become a sort of intellectual fashion."

He said millions of Democrats are opposed to communism, but that under Democratic administrations "the Communist conspiracy was allowed to infiltrate all the agencies of our federal government, even up to the White House itself."

Roosevelts Hold Short Conference

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (UP) — James Roosevelt Planned to fly to New York today, fresh from a 90-minute hotel room conference with his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

The lanky son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, had an airline reservation today for New York.

It was possible that James' brother, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-N.Y.) also attended the hotel room dinner meeting yesterday, but he was not seen leaving Mrs. Roosevelt's suite.

The Blackstone hotel conference no doubt touched on charges by James' estranged wife, Romelle Roosevelt, that he was faithless to her and had signed a letter admitting adultery with an even dozen women.

The meeting was interrupted by Chicago reporters who persistently banged on the door until James threatened to call the House Detective.

James said his business in New York concerned his father's estate, and that his step here was also primarily dictated by business.

None of the family would discuss the conference.

Rhee Insists China Will Revive War

(Editor's Note: Relman Morin, Associated Press special correspondent, interviewed President Syngman Rhee of South Korea today at the President's home in Seoul, Morin, who won the Pulitzer Prize for Korea War reporting in 1950, has been in the Far East three weeks visiting leaders in Japan and Korea. Before World War II, he was Associated Press chief of bureau in Tokyo. Since the war he has been in Paris and Washington before being appointed to his roving assignment.)

By RELMAN MORIN

SEOUL (AP) — President Syngman Rhee said today he is determined to reopen the war against the Chinese Reds occupying North Korea, and he warned that if necessary, he will go ahead without American support.

"I am not bluffing," he said. The President of the Republic of Korea made this statement in an interview with this correspondent. Even in general terms, he did not specify when he will order his armies to attack, but he said: "Time is rapidly running out. We shall have to act soon or perish."

In both manner and speech, he gave every evidence that he means what he says. He repeated several times: "I am not bluffing. I can't bluff now."

He criticized American policy as "mistaken" in discussing peace with the Chinese and said: "Unification through a political conference is ridiculous."

The President gave these reasons for the position he is taking: 1. He is convinced the Chinese themselves will reopen the war whenever the y are ready.

2. They have not given up their ambition for the whole of Korea. They will attack again.

3. The Communists have new weapons from the Soviets, including a strong air arm and many giant tanks.

4. Even assuming the Chinese do not attack in the near future—which he does not assume—he said a divided Korea cannot live.

He was speaking from a point of view of food, industry and general economics.

Therefore, he said, "we must strike first. It is no war of aggression to liberate part of our own soil. We want only what is our own."

Does he have any fear that a South Korean attack on the Chinese might touch off the third world war?

The Doctor Disagrees

By Elizabeth Seifert

SYNOPSIS: Dr. Stephen Carr is about to leave his native Norfolk in the mid-west for Army duty in the Pacific. He has arranged with his old friend, Dr. Craig Talbot, a skilled physician, to come to Norfolk from a distant city for the purpose of taking over the Carr medical practice. Talbot arrives and is warmly greeted by Carr and his gracious wife, Shelly, at dinner in their home. Shelly is struck by the dark, handsome Talbot's dynamic force, his charm and sense of humor and especially by his generally held opinion of the medical profession as a whole. Fearfully, she wonders whether her husband's patients will find this bluntly frank, nonconformist, acceptable as their doctor. Carr leaves for his mission to the Orient and Dr. Talbot promptly dismisses Carr's long devoted office clerk, Miss Cobb. He explains the matter merely by stating that he did not care to be harassed by the woman.

CHAPTER TEN

SHELLY took off her hat and went out to the desk. She was caught up into immediate activity. As she had odd minutes through the morning, Miss Browne guided Shelly in the matter of record cards, appointments, messages. The hours flew.

"At five o'clock," said Craig Talbot that evening, "we lock the front door against any more business." He walked to the door in question, snapped the lock. He came back to Shelly, bent over the desk and searched her face. "You don't have to knock yourself out!" he told her.

She brushed a lock of hair back into place. "It's exciting," he said. "He's straightened and seemed to review the day. "One or two things were exciting," he decided.

"But each one..." "Each one was important. Only one or two were what you said. Well, I'll help Browne get some sensitivity media made up, and then I'll come back and go over the cards with you. Unless you can't wait..."

"I'm not in nearly as much of a hurry as Miss Browne," Shelly told him. "She has a date."

Craig made a show of rushing off, but stopped at the door. "Do you have lunch?"

"Of course. We went out while you were at the hospital."

He nodded approval. "I'll be right back, but you might let Donald out."

She did, throwing her red coat around her shoulders, standing in the little graveled rectangle while the dog busied himself. Through the half-open blinds of the lab windows she could see Craig Talbot's dark head and the nurse's cap as they made—whatever media might be.

Donald ready, she went back into the hospital. Copyright, 1953, by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Court Rulings Costs Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas lost about $200,000 when the U. S. Supreme Court ruled Monday against the state in a sales tax case, and may lose millions of dollars more as a result of the decision.

Asst. Revenue Commissioner Ed McLees said yesterday that the initial loss would run $200,000. He said he couldn't estimate the eventual loss, but predicted it would total millions of dollars.

The Supreme Court held that Kern-Limerick, Inc., a Little Rock equipment dealer doesn't have to pay the state $342.93 in sales taxes on two tractors. It sold to a contractor on a Navy construction project.

Hollywood Claims Another Great Athlete

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now look who's becoming a movie star — Deceitful Star Bob Mathias.

The great Tulare, Calif., athlete is the latest sports figure to submit to the film biography treatment. Or maybe it should be called an autobiography, since he'll play a boy named Bob Mathias.

"Me act" he laughs. "Not on your life. I'll just be playing my self. The script will be true to life, so I won't have to do any heavy dramatics or anything like that. I think I ought to be able to handle it."

Bob has done most of his performing on playing fields from here to Helsinki. He says he never even appeared in school plays. That's understandable when you consider the amount of time he spent practicing the many sports he is skilled in.

"But I did take some courses in radio announcing and television at Stanford," he remarked. "That gave me something of a breakin and I've done a lot of interviews on radio and TV. Aside from that and newsreels, I've never faced a camera."

Bob is a handsome giant who talks in assured tones but has remained modest despite his fame. He looks forward to the acting experience as "something new and exciting."

"My agent, Jim Fallon, and I have been discussing some kind of picture for some time," he revealed. "At first we thought it might be some kind of an adventure series in TV. You know, 'some thing like Tom Swift or the Rover Boys or a Space Man idea, with me playing myself. But the series was out because that would take 62 weeks. I don't have that much time before entering the Marine Corps."

"So we decided on the story of my life. William E. Selwyn is producing it, and Dick English is writing the script from material I have given him. We'll have a few weeks of rehearsals, so I can learn how to move in front of the camera. Then we'll shoot it, probably in May. Part of it will be made here and part on location in Tulare and at Stanford."

"Bob, who is 23 now, said his days as an athlete are just about over. He may do some football, basketball and track while in the Palmer Heads Mississippi Valley Asso.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — C. E. Palmer, publisher of a chain of newspapers in Arkansas, is the new board chairman of the Mississippi Valley Association.

Palmer was elected at the organization's meeting here yesterday. Wilbur A. Jones of Omaha, Neb., was named president.

The association which closed its two-day meeting here yesterday, adopted a resolution opposing construction of steam generating plants for production of power for resale by federal authorities and agencies as an improper governmental function that places the government in competition with its citizens.

The primary purpose of the dam control, navigation or irrigation programs, the MVA urged that while they should be built to generate power, the production of power must be purely incidental to the primary purpose of the dam.

In other resolutions, the MVA: 1. Urged construction of controls proposed by the Army's Corps of Engineers to present the Mississippi River from bypassing. New Orleans by forcing a channel down the Atchafalaya River west of the city.

2. Called for additional appropriations for flood control projects along the entire Mississippi River, and construction of the Calumet-Sag canal project at Chicago which would improve transportation between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi River.

3. Opposed "arbitrary refusal of funds for a worthwhile authorized project under the guise that it has not been previously started."

4. Renewed opposition to federal regional authorities.

Uke Frowns on Extreme Partisanship

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today counseled members of his administration to avoid extreme partisanship in their remarks about Democrats, and said he would expect the Republican National Committee to show similar tolerance.

The President told a news conference the times are too serious to indulge in political partisanship to an extreme.

He said too it is obvious some parts of his Democratic support if they are to go through Congress. The president's remarks were touched off by the recent flurry of protest by Democrats including House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas, that the Republicans have been making "dastardly" attacks to the previous administration.

U. S. Not to Count on Full Success

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is not counting upon complete success this year in getting farmers to cut down on the production of such surplus crops as cotton, wheat and corn.

Control programs being set up for these crops call for a total reduction of about 30 million acres. The aim is that the 185 million acres planted to these three crops last year would be reduced to about 155 million.

But Agriculture Department officials are forecasting a reduction of between 20 and 25 million acres instead of the 50 million called for. Greater success is expected for the cotton program than for those relating to wheat and corn because there is greater leeway in the latter programs.

Manville, the Agriculture Department is starting work on plans for use of land diverted from surplus crops. It is largely to be used to do much for this year's news conference yesterday.

The study will be made to determine the feasibility of putting some of the extra land into the production of rubber and drug plants.

But such plants would take very minor part of the extra land crop specialists said.

In 1953, the department is expected to seek diversion of extra land to soft-building legume, grass crops through offer of cultural conservation payments.

Benson indicated the administration will ask an appropriation of 175 million dollars for such payments for 1955. This is the same amount voted for the current year, but much of the present year's being used to help farmers buy less money would be made available for the later use next year and more for legume and grass crops.

Reds Having Trouble in East Germany

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UP) — East Germany's Communist regime today was reported to have cancelled all leaves and called back all men on furlough to crush spreading unrest and mounting demands for Western-type free elections.

The Red police underscored with gunfire, which wounded one German on Berlin's city frontier, their orders to deal ruthlessly with anyone suspected of agitating against the Red puppet regime.

The West Berlin fighting group against inhumanity reported that the Communists have brought their militia-like police force up to its full, 200,000-man strength in fear a new workers' revolt, similar to that of last June 17. Official confirmation of the report was not immediately available.

But the U. S. High Commission's German-language newspaper Neue Zeitung said discontent is spreading rapidly as a result of the refusal of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to accept the West's plan for free all German elections and reunification of the country.

A food and fuel shortage also gripped the Russian zone. The fuel shortage was reported to be so acute that many cities were without bread because bio-erics had no fuel for their ovens. Power cuts limiting service to eight or 12 hours were said to be in effect in many areas.
